

New Orleans Chapter Newsletter

Society of Independent Professional Earth Scientists

Volume 13, Number 5

May 2012

Chairman's Column

Last month, Roy Walther gave an interesting and informative talk about the accuracy of electric log measurements. He presented a number of examples where log datums turned out to be incorrect. A good rule is "if things don't seem to be right", additional investigation is warranted.

This month on May 15, we wind up the 2011-2012 meeting year with the annual dinner meeting for members, spouses and guests. We have lined up what promises to be an entertaining and informative talk by Rafael Goyeneche, president of the Metropolitan Crime Commission of the greater New Orleans area.

An excellent menu has been planned, including a complimentary beverage before dinner and wine with our meal. We will have a choice of three entrées, along with soup, salad and dessert. As in the past, we would welcome any contributions to the "wine fund".

So far the appeal for new officers and committee chairmen has not resulted in any volunteers. The Chapter cannot continue indefinitely without new leadership!

As we close out the year, I want to recognize and thank our officers and committee chairmen, R. T. Cerniglia, Co-Chairman, Reese Pinney, Treasurer, Art Johnson, Secretary, Tom Klekamp, newsletter editor, Tony Carollo, membership chairman and David Broadbridge, our webmaster. Last, but not least, Carol St. Germain for continuing to do her usual great job and agreeing to take on more duties.

Louis E. Lemarié
Co-Chairman

Tuesday, May 15th

Andrea's Restaurant—Metairie

Social and cocktails (1 complimentary drink) 6:30 PM

Seating for dinner 7:15 PM

Choice of 3 entrées—wine served with dinner

Rafael C. Goyeneche, III

Rafael Goyeneche is a New Orleans native. He graduated from De La Salle High School, received his undergraduate degree from Louisiana State University and his juris doctorate from Loyola Law School. Upon graduation from law school, Rafael served as an assistant district attorney in Orleans Parish between 1980-1986. During his tenure in the D.A.'s office, Rafael worked in trials, screening and was appointed chief of the Economic Crime Unit, a unit responsible for investigating and prosecuting white collar crime.

Rafael joined the staff of the Metropolitan Crime Commission in 1986 and was named president of the MCC in 1989. He is responsible for managing all aspects of MCC operations.

Rafael was the award recipient of the U.S. Attorney General William French Smith Award for Outstanding Contributions to Cooperative Law Enforcement in October 2011 and the N. O. Hispanic Heritage Foundation's Galvez Cup in November 2011.

New Orleans Chapter Newsletter

Society of Professional Journalists

May 2012

Volume 18, Number 4

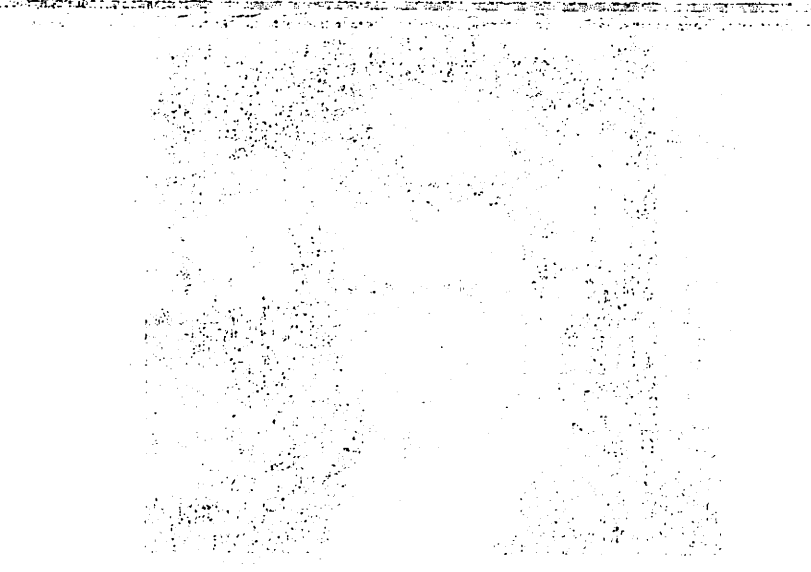

Two-page layout

Editorial - Executive Director

Editorial and content of newsletter (SPPJ)

Editorial and content of newsletter

Editorial and content of newsletter

Editorial of Newsletter

Editorial of Newsletter is a key element of the newsletter...

Editorial of Newsletter is a key element of the newsletter... The newsletter is published quarterly and provides a platform for members to share their thoughts and experiences. It is an important part of the organization's communication strategy and helps to build a sense of community among members. The editorial team works closely with the board of directors to ensure that the newsletter is relevant and informative. It also provides a space for members to voice their concerns and suggestions. The newsletter is a valuable resource for members and is an important part of the organization's identity.

Editorial of Newsletter

Editorial of Newsletter is a key element of the newsletter... The newsletter is published quarterly and provides a platform for members to share their thoughts and experiences. It is an important part of the organization's communication strategy and helps to build a sense of community among members. The editorial team works closely with the board of directors to ensure that the newsletter is relevant and informative. It also provides a space for members to voice their concerns and suggestions. The newsletter is a valuable resource for members and is an important part of the organization's identity.

Editorial of Newsletter

Editorial of Newsletter is a key element of the newsletter... The newsletter is published quarterly and provides a platform for members to share their thoughts and experiences. It is an important part of the organization's communication strategy and helps to build a sense of community among members. The editorial team works closely with the board of directors to ensure that the newsletter is relevant and informative. It also provides a space for members to voice their concerns and suggestions. The newsletter is a valuable resource for members and is an important part of the organization's identity.

Editorial of Newsletter