

Chairman's Column

Last month, Chris McLindon gave us a comprehensive presentation on his project related to subsidence and land loss in South Louisiana. Chris has already dedicated a tremendous amount of time and research to this effort and we are ready to assist him in any way we can as the project moves forward.

Next month on Tuesday, November 11 is the annual API Joint Societies meeting at the Roosevelt Hotel. This year, the keynote speaker will be John Young, the president of Jefferson Parish. As in the past, this luncheon is included in your dues, but you must check-in outside the Waldorf Astoria Ballroom. API will invoice SIPES for the number of members attending.

Roy Walther reports that dues payment for the Fall have gone fairly well; however, a few of you have not yet responded. Check your records to make sure you are not delinquent!

John Young: As a lifelong resident of Louisiana, John Young has dedicated the last 20 years to working alongside others to make the Sportsman's Paradise the best place to live, work and raise a family.

In 2010, John was elected Parish President. Prior to that, John served on the Jefferson Parish Council. By removing government red tape, he has attracted thousands of new jobs to the parish and bolstered economic development. John Young also serves as President of PACE, Parishes Against Coastal Erosion, where he is leading a group of 20 coastal parishes to coordinate important efforts to fight for coastal protection and restoration. He is a former Assistant District Attorney and prosecutor, John attended Loyola University where he received a Bachelor of Public Administration and he attended the Loyola University School of Law. John Young is the father of five children and is dedicated to ensuring our state has a bright future.
